

Media Advisory

Royal Canadian Regiment Change of Command Parade

May 3, 2022 –London, ON– National Defence / Canadian Armed Forces

Media are invited to attend the 4th Battalion, the Royal Canadian Regiment (4 RCR) Change of Command Parade on May 5, 2022 at the Wolseley Barracks in London, ON, where 1st Battalion the Royal Canadian Regiment battlegroup (1 RCR BG), will participate in the parade.

4th Battalion, the Royal Canadian Regiment (4 RCR) is a Primary Reserve Infantry unit based in London and Stratford, Ont. The RCR was founded on December 21, 1883 as Canada's first truly-professional regiment of infantry and has fought gallantly in every conflict Canada has been involved in. 4 RCR, specifically, has drawn its soldiers from the London, Woodstock and Stratford area for more than 150 years.

The 1 RCR BG, comprised of approximately 200 soldiers from 2 Canadian Mechanized Brigade Group in Petawawa and all across Canada, will be deploying to Latvia in June 2022 on Operation REASSURANCE, Canada's contribution to NATO assurance and deterrence measures to reinforce collective defence and show the strength of Allied solidarity.

The 1 RCR BG is conducting Exercise LACPLESIS PURSUIT, an outreach and presence exercise in Ontario that will see the BG in London on May 5 where it will observe 4 RCR's Change of Command Parade.

The media are invited to observe the parade, where various Canadian Army personnel will be available for interviews and photo opportunities with military equipment.

What: Change of Command Parade for the 4 RCR

Where: Wolseley Barracks, 701 Oxford St East, London, ON

When: Saturday, May 5, 2022 from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

-30-

Notes to editor / news director:

Media are asked to arrive no later than 3:15 p.m. Parking is available at on site (Wolseley Barracks). Media members can call the number below to make further arrangements.